

PRESS RELEASE 10/2007

Munich-based visualisation specialist among Europe's fastest-growing companies

RTT AG Provides Growth and Jobs

Munich, 26 October 2007 – This year the Realtime Technology AG is once again among Europe's 500 fastest-growing companies. It's the second consecutive year that the Munich-based company has been nominated for the "Europe's 500" ranking, which covers medium-sized companies and is published by the European entrepreneurs' organisation "Europe's 500 – Entrepreneurs for Growth". The award is supported by KPMG and Microsoft. RTT is the world's leading supplier of photo-realistic visualisation solutions and services.

Each year the Europe's 500 award goes to the 500 most dynamic and innovative companies in Europe with exceptional job creation and sales growth. The period of scrutiny for this year's award covers three business years, from end of December 2003 to end of December 2006. The award will be presented at the official award ceremony in Prague on 24 November 2007.

"Winning this award is another proof of the quality of our team," says Ludwig A. Fuchs, RTT's Member of the Board. "We have positioned ourselves very successfully on the dynamic growth market of 3D visualisation. We have an international approach as well as an open corporate culture. This makes us to an attractive employer for qualified, motivated employees."

Over the last few years RTT AG has achieved above-average growth in terms of number of employees and turnover, and especially qualifies for the award. With sales growth of 200% and an increase in employment of 252% between 2003 and 2006, RTT is ranked 292th in Europe's 500.
